Ref: Making another record of ACLU's role in covering up for record-setting civil and constitutional violations combined with scheme to block reporting of criminal and subversive activities

To Ms. Ehrlich:

The purpose of this letter is to make another record of how the ACLU has for many years covered up for the scheme involving record-setting violations of substantive and procedural due process against a former federal agent with documented judicial tactics to block the reporting of criminal and subversive activities. Among the harm inflicted upon the United States through these corrupt activities were the events occurring on September 11, 2001. The details follow.

I first started reporting these matters to the ACLU while I held a major air safety position with the FAA responsible for correcting the conditions resulting in the worst series of air disasters in U.S. history. In my earlier letters to the ACLU I brought out the massive civil and constitutional violations being inflicted upon me as part of a scheme to block the exposure of criminal and subversive activities that I and my group of other former and present government agents had discovered, and which were continuing to result in great harm upon national interests and the lives, and deaths, of many people. As a federal air safety inspector, I reported the civil rights violations inflicted upon me to silence my exposure of these tragedy-related criminal activities. ACLU refused to provide any help, making possible the continuation of the harm inflicted upon me and the continuation of the corruption within the FAA that was closely responsible for a continuing series of fatal airline crashes.

I against brought to the ACLU's attention the misconduct by California and federal judges, working with a CIA-front law firm, the massive violations of civil rights as part of a scheme to block the reporting of criminal and subversive activities that I and my group of other government agents had discovered.

I described to the ACLU the tactics being used to prevent the exposure of these major criminal activities, which included the filing of a sham lawsuit against me in the California courts by the CIA-front law firm that violated dozens of state and federal laws and constitutional protections. I described the involvement of California judges, misusing California courts, violating every procedural due process remedy specifically provided for any one of the multitudes of state and federal laws being violated.

I brought to your attention the extension of these massive substantive and procedural due process rights into the federal courts, as they also aided and abetted the CIA-front law firm by violating every procedural due process right to defend against the multitude of violations of federally protected rights.

I described to the ACLU the repeated obstruction of justice by federal judges of criminal and subversive activities that were inflicting great harm upon national security and other major national issues. I described how federal judges, to block the reporting of the criminal activities and to void for me the legal and constitutional due process defenses, rendered a series of unlawful and unconstitutional orders permanently terminating my legal rights, legal protections, and legal defenses, enabling the massive civil rights to proceed while terminating federal defenses.

The ACLU knew of the tragic consequences of this misconduct in fraud-related airline crashes, and the consequences arising from the other areas of criminal activities. The ACLU knew the federal courts were being used as a criminal enterprise to block the reporting of criminal activities while subverting major civil and constitutional rights and protections.

The latest results of the corruption I and other former government agents sought to report—and the ACLU cover-ups—were the 3,000 deaths on September 11, 2001. The continued corruption, and the continued cover-ups, insure that these déjà vu tragedies will be repeated time and time again, as they have been for the years that I first discovered the corruption as a federal air safety inspector.

Additional details—for the record;

First, I am a former federal investigator, who, with a group of several dozen present and former government agents and deep-cover operatives, has sought to report high-level corruption in government. In an attempt to circumvent the cover-ups of these matters, I published several highly detailed and documented books in an attempt to inform the public of these matters, and also to motivate groups, such as the ACLU, to exercise their moral and legal responsibilities.

The pattern of judicial violations of civil rights described in part in this letter are well documented in court records. Although these gregarious civil liberty violations were directed at me, the important issue is that the courts were made into a corrupt vehicle to carry them out, and that the same can be done to anyone. The pattern of civil rights violations started out with a sham lawsuit filed against me. This lawsuit was filed after my exposure of high-level government corruption escalated. The carry out the lawsuit, civil right protections had to be violated, and these violations escalated to an unprecedented number and level in the courts.

A few of the serious civil rights violations involving the misuse of judicial positions and the courts are listed here:

- Judicial orders barring me for the remainder of my life from federal court access, and the federal protections specific for the wrongful acts inflicted upon me. (These are obviously unlawful and unconstitutional orders, intended to block my legal defenses.)
- Judicial orders barring me from reporting federal crimes that I sought to report under the clearly worded crime reporting statute, Title 18 U.S.C. Section 4. (These orders obstructed justice and violated various federal criminal statutes, as they obstructed justice.)
- Federal judges charging me with criminal contempt of court after I exercised federal remedies under the Civil Rights Act and declaratory judgment statutes (which I combined with a Title 18 U.S.C. Section 4 reporting of criminal activities). (This pattern of retaliation constitutes criminal acts under Title 18 U.S.C. Section 241 and Sections 1505, 1512, and 1513.)
- Sentenced to six months in prison, at the age of 66, denied a jury trial, in retaliation for exercising the rights to procedural due process for massive civil and constitutional violations and for reporting criminal and subversive activities that continued to inflict great harm upon the United States and its people—the latest occurring on September 11.
- Forced to seek relief in Chapter 11 court from the civil rights violations, compounded by the judicial revocation of major civil and constitutional protections, and further compounded by the threat of prison if I exercised these “protected” civil rights.
- Chapter 11 judge then signed two orders seizing my assets, carrying out the original intent of stripping me of the assets that funded my exposure activities. The orders seizing my life’s assets violated the statutory and constitutional requirements for a noticed hearing, the requirement of a hearing, the requirement for legally recognized cause. Further, they were signed after the judge had signed an order refusing to accept jurisdiction, which had never been rescinded. The orders were therefore signed without personal and without subject matter jurisdiction, making them void orders.
- An order was then signed barring me from objecting to the seizure and liquidation of my assets. When I filed objections, I was then charged with criminal contempt of court. I was denied an attorney, I was denied the right to testify in my own defense, and then held guilty by Oakland Chapter 11 judge Edward Jellen, and sentenced to federal prison. That sentence was never carried out, as Chapter 11 judges had no authority to sentence anyone to prison on contempt of court charges.

- Corruptly seeking to support orders permanently terminating my civil and constitutional rights to defend by reversing the legal definition of frivolous and calling my exercise of procedural due process against the record-setting violations of state and federal laws and constitutional protections to be frivolous defenses.
- The series of criminal contempt-of-court charges were in continuous effect from 1987 to 1995.

Civil Rights Violations Combined With Obstruction Of Justice

These judicial attacks repeatedly violated fundamental and important constitutional protections. These attacks followed my attempts to expose high-level corruption that I discovered while a federal investigator for the Federal Aviation Administration. Briefly, the San Francisco law firm filed the lawsuit that was barred by blocks of California and federal statutes, related decisional law, rules of court, and fundamental rights and protections in the Constitution. California judges repeatedly violated these protections in law, and then compounded these violations by violating procedural remedies. Every appeal to higher courts in California was ineffective. Only California Supreme Court justice Stanley Mosk supported my objections to the violations being perpetrated.

I then exercised federal remedies under the Civil Rights Act for the documented civil rights violations and under the declaratory judgment statutes to have a federal judge declare my personal and property rights legally established in seven judgments. Again, federal judges refused to act despite their responsibility to do so.

The ACLU claims that its goals are to protect civil rights. In this convoluted series of continuous judicially perpetrated violations of civil liberties, a pattern is revealed that is far more serious than any case the ACLU has taken in the past. The pattern shows the willingness of judges to convert their positions and the courts into a corrupt arm of government. Making matters even worse, the civil rights violations were closely tied in with obstruction of justice for criminal activities.

Although a federal lawsuit would be relatively straight forward, there is much more to all this. I have written books exposing much of the criminal activities and judicial corruption (Third editions of Defrauding America and Unfriendly Skies, and first edition of Drugging America.) I also have web sites that make reference to some of these matters.

The specific civil rights violations, and the underlying judicial mentality that willingly repeated them, can be addressed in a single lawsuit that must be filed by March 25, 2000. It was on approximately March 25, 1999, that Judge Jellen held the final hearing on the Chapter 11 cases, and the one-year statute of limitations started to run on a federal lawsuit under the Civil Rights Act, Bivens, and civil RICO. That Chapter 11 case is tied in with the 17-year continuous and inter-related pattern of civil rights violations and judicial fraud and provides the vehicle for addressing the entire sordid matter. This is an unprecedented opportunity to get to the heart of some of the worst cases of civil rights violations.

Harm Upon America and Americans Will Continue and Escalate

I wrote to the ACLU several years ago stating, "Your group is sufficiently sophisticated to know that failure to provide assistance will make possible the continuation of the pattern of corruption in the courts and other government entities, and that the harm upon the people will continue and even escalate, as I have documented during the past 40 years." Now that 3,000 people have died, made possible by the Trojan horse corruption in government, and the courts, in only one day's events, the ACLU now has an even greater self-serving interests in continuing to cover up for the crimes against the United States and its people.

More details of the massive civil and constitutional violations appear on Internet sites, including the site concentrating on judicial corruption: www.defraudingamerica.com/legal_index.htm.

The ACLU continued cover-up of these major crimes against the United States will continue the tragic consequences, of which September 11 is only one of an endless number of tragedies suffered by the American people from the corruption and its cover-ups that insures the success of repeated terrorist acts, some of which will undoubtedly be worse than September 11.

Sincerely,
