Ref: Rejected advertising

Mr. Funk:

I meant to write sooner, but have been very busy. In your October 26, 2000, letter, you rejected the prepaid advertisement that I sent to your publication. The ad was certainly not offensive. It simply stated:

Evidence from CIA insiders to force changes in drug laws. Drugging America. 1-800-247-7389.
www.druggingamerica.com

The book is written by a former federal agent, with input from over a dozen other former and present government agents. There are no conspiracy theories, only facts and a certain amount of documentation. There is no profit in this undertaking, seeking to inform the public of very grave misconduct in key government offices.

Your refusal to allow this information to become known is of interest. Would you be willing to state why you refused to allow this placement in your magazine?

Sincerely,

Rodney Stich
