Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

To Ms. Thompson,

Some months ago you responded to letters that I sent to President Bush concerning corruption that I and a group of other former government agents had discovered, part of which played key roles in causing the conditions to exist that enabled 19 hijackers to seize four airliners on 9-11. While I appreciated your reply letter I was not pleased with the literal form-letter response that covered up for the continuing corruption that played a major role in 3,000 people being killed.

The enclosed September 11, 2003, letter to U.S. District Judge Alvin Hellerstein explains how this corruption, and the cover-ups, enabled conditions to exist that encouraged and enabled 19 hijackers to seize four airliners and kill 3,000 people. This is the type of misconduct in government offices that will continue to result in catastrophic consequences for the United States and its people.

A reasonable person could reach the decision that charges like this, coming from a former federal aviation safety agent with unusual background, in light of 3,000 victims in a single morning, would merit some response other than a form letter response.

This letter is primarily to make a record in the event that some day someone or some group, somewhere, will have sufficient courage and integrity to make this information known. Until then, if it ever occurs, the nation will suffer the consequences of the deep-seated culture of corruption and endemic cover-ups throughout government and throughout society that I have documented over the years.

Sincerely,

Rodney Stich
